As we come together for worship this morning, we are wrapping up a weekend of celebrating our country’s Independence Day. It’s a day where we recognize the freedoms and rights we have in this country and the people who risked their lives to gain our independence. As we think about the freedoms we have as citizens of this country, it is also a good time to reflect on the spiritual freedoms we have in Christ.

Galatians 5:13 reminds us, “You, my brothers and sisters, were called to be free. But do not use your freedom to indulge the flesh; rather, serve one another humbly in love.” This verse speaks directly to the heart of Christian freedom — not as a license to do whatever we please, but as a call to live in love, service, and responsibility.

While we honor the courage of those who fought for America’s independence, we also remember the ultimate freedom won for us on the cross. Christ has set us free from sin and death, and in Him, we find a deeper liberty that no earthly power can give or take away. This week, let’s take time to:

- Pray for our nation and its leaders,
- Give thanks that we have the freedom to worship without harassment,
- And ask ourselves the question: Am I using the freedom that Christ gave me in a way that is pleasing to Him?

May the Lord bless you as you strive to live out the freedom He has given you.

- Brian
